School Funds Come As Result Of House Money Bill

Two field representatives from the Federal Works Agency brought good news to Marin City this week when they informed School Superintendent Clifton Boyle that Lanham Act funds to run Marin City's grammar school have at last arrived. They came as a result of passage by Congress of a $115,000,000 deficiency appropriation.

The money will be forthcoming within 10 days. The sum is $48,735.00.

The representatives, Mrs. Doris A. Meek and Mrs. Ann Weaver, also conferred with Milen Dempster of the housing authority about funds for the Hamilton Field Nursery School.

FWA is the agency which dispenses Federal Lanham Act funds in war-conected locations, which includes practically all of California now, says Mrs. Meek.

Services financed by the Federal funds in Marin City include the school, recreation activities and the Child Care Center.

Small Pox Vaccination For All

The first day of the inoculation program at the Marin City school brought immunity from disease to hundreds of school children last week. Smallpox inoculations were given to 274; and diphtheria shots were taken by 203 school and preschool children.

Examinations of last Monday's smallpox inoculations will be given at the school this Monday, 10:30 a.m.

The program will be completed with two more days at the school, May 1 and May 21. The hours are from 9 to 12 a.m., and 1 to 3 p.m. Everyone is eligible to take the free inoculations.

A combination inoculation for diptheria and whooping cough, called diph-thussis, is being given to pre-school youngsters, says Miss Dulcie Green, school nurse.

USES To Return To USO Cottage Next Wednesday

The United States Employment representative, Miss Henrieta Danaceau, wil return to the USO Travelers' Air Cottage next Wednesday, April 19, from 2 to 4 p.m.

The 40 people she interviewed for jobs last week are requested to see her again. Newcomers are welcome to come and register for county jobs.

Miss Danaceau said, late this week, she was attempting to locate local opportunities for employment in industry and service work — restaurants, laundries, and institutions.

"Most of the jobs in Marin County call for men. There may be openings for women in industry that require some mechanical ability or aptitude, which are within commuting distance," she said.

Navigation Class At Center

There's many a Marin citizen who plans to board his cruiser or sail boat and make off for foreign ports as soon as the war is over, it is reported here.

But to arrive safely, these future sailors are anxious to learn navigation during the duration.

There's a prospect of starting a navigation instruction class for residents who own, are buying, or building small sail boats or cruisers, or are planning to sail after the war.

Proposed class would teach how to handle small boats up to about 60 feet, how to read instruments and charts.

Those interested should send a post card to the Recreation Department, P.O. Box 236, or see Miss Ethel Johnson at the Rental Office during the daytime, or see Michael Smith at the Community Building, between 7 and 8 p.m.

Mobile Unit at Marin City second Friday every month. Sign up at Rental Office or see Mrs. W. C. Billingsley, A15-116.

Attendance Is Up At School

Attendance at the Marin City school is on the upgrade, reports Superintendent Clifton Boyle, who this week said he expects March records will show the best daily attendance since opening day in September.

After reaching an all-time low in the month of November, the daily attendance in February showed 677 out of an enrollment of approximately 850, present daily.

School authorities assume the recent change in average daily attendance is owing to the campaign carried on by Boyle as attendance supervisor.

Boyle has brought two cases of illegal absence to court, during the last month. One case was turned over to the county probation officer, the other case was fined by the Sausalito police court.

"Many people here have come from States where there is no compulsory school attendance law," says Boyle in explanation of previous poor attendance records.

The California State law prescribes compulsory attendance of all children between the ages of 8 and 16. Illness of the child is the only legal excuse for absence. Any child may be reported truant who is tardy or absent for more than three days without legal excuse.

TB Test Results

Chest Films Prove Value To Residents

Active medical diagnosis and clinical tests are now being made on over 200 men and wofen, employed in defense plants in the county, as a result of a well planned case-finding project held at Marin City early ths year under the sponsorship of the Marin County Tuberculosis Association.

This was announced by Dr. Irving Johnson, county health officer, who with Mrs. Verna Norton, public health nurse, has just completed a tabulation of results as reported by chest specialists after reading hundreds of 4 by 5 x-ray films.

Of the 1923 chest films of persons who were x-rayed at Marin City with equipment purchased by the California Tuberculoss Association with Christmas Seal funds, 21 films showed definite indications or active tuberculosis; 85 indicated possible or suspected tuberculosis; 61 revealed some cardiac abnormality.

Many of these clincal tests are being made by the California Physician's Service and family physicians of those surveyed.

There were 1568 negative films taken during the program it was reported.

The health officer pointed out that of the 21 definite suspects, housewives and laborers top the lists, while in the doubtful or suspected group laborers, housewives, machinists and students lead in that order.

A study of the tabulation revealed that the bulk of those with apparently definite infection were in the 25 to 44 age while more than half of the 85 in the doubtful group were between 25 and 44 years of age.

Almost three times as many men were found to have indications of infection, than were women surveyed, it was reported.

"'It is rather hard to determine the actual number of active tuberculosis cases in this group of persons x-rayed," Dr. Johnson stated. "However, I am sure that the two per cent average found by the Army and Navy personnel at induction Stations will hold true in Marin County. In other words, it is not unlikely to find at least 38 to 40 persons with active or recently healed tubersulosis, from this one survey. No attempt has been made, so far, to determine the extent of non-residents involved in the survey."

Bus Service For Hill Residents Is Set For Next Week

The town's inter-city yellow bus service, operated by Charles Moser, will provide complete transportation for all of Marin City, starting this Monday, April 17.

Operating on a regular schedule, appearing on Page Two, the new service will make specified stops throughout the project and to Sausalito. The stops will be marked by white painted strips around telephone poles.

The new enlarged service for the citizens of the community was inaugurated by the Improvement Committee of the Marin City Council, in cooperation with the Office of Defense Transportation and Moser.

For the last several weeks, the yellow bus has been operating here only for yard shift changes. It has never before provided consistent service for north hill residents.

The new north hill service will be provided by the addition of a 10-passenger limousine to the bus company. The yellow bus has not been able to make the grade, previously limiting service.

The following new rules to go with the new schedule were laid down by the ODT and Moser:

No kerosene can be carried on bus.

No animals.

Baggage, per passenger, is limited to 30 pounds.

Children over five or any child occupying a seat during crowded hours, must pay a full fare.

Trips made during shift changes are for shipyard workers only.

The new service will provide continuous hill trips between 5 and 6 p.m., from the store stop.

It will also inaugurate evening transportation service within Marin City, and to Sausalito, from a main stop at the Greyhound depot, from 7 to midnight.

The schedule printed is the only copy which will be distributed. Clip and save it for future reference.

Chance To Ride A Horse Soon

Marin City residents who like to ride horses were pleased this week to learn that a riding academy will be started in the near future just west of the city at the end of Pacheco Circle.

This addition to the community's recreational facilities is being established by Lloyd Howell and Lloyd Miller. Approval of plans for the riding academy were approved at last Wednesday's meeting of the Marin County Planning Commission after Supervisor Fred Bagshaw had met with the Marin City Council to determine the council's attitude toward the project.

The city council earlier in the week surveyed the site of the projected riding academy and decided that it would not be a danger to the community's health standards if proper sanitation was maintained.

The permit granted by the Planning Commission for the operation of the academy specified that strict health standards must be adhered to. The permit allows operators of the project to have 25 horses at the stables for the use of Marin City residents who wish to rent them. Riding instruction also will be available, according to the operators.

The academy will be ready within the next two weeks, it is reported.

Volunteer Firemen Meet Sunday In Center Lounge

Volunteer firemen, with their wives, will meet this Sunday at the Community House lounge at 1 p.m.

The meeting is called to organize a ladies auxiliary for the group. The wives will take on the job of preparing emergency rations, when their husbands are called out to fight fires.

"Hang Onto Your Ration Books,"

"Hang onto your ration books", says the local store manager, who this week revealed that five or six housewives come to him every day seeking lost books.
ing lost books.

Onlly one or two are turned into the management daily, he added.

Army Textbook It Used In Marin City Spanish Class

The U. S. Army method and textbook for language instruction is being used by Dr. Ball of Marin Junior College in teaching Spanish to the Marin City Spanish class.

The emphasis is upon conversation rather than grammar, for the 40 enrolled students at the Monday night class.

The group meets at 8 p.m. The new class room is the eighth grade room at the school.

Enrollments for new beginners will close after next Monday. Students with previous Spanish training may enter any time.

Eighty children of war-working mothers are daily cared for at the Nursery and Child Care Center here. A limited number of vacancies are still open in both departments.

Triumphal Parade

5000 Yard Workers Hail Victory Pennant

In a spontaneous triumphal parade, 5000 day shift workers at Marinship today brought the National Tanker Champ flag to the San Francisco bay area for the first time.

As the flag was brought into the yard at noon for a presentation ceremony, thousands of workers fell in behind the truck bearing the flag. They were joined by the Fourth Army Band which had been scheduled to play at the noontime program.

The demonstration marked a high point of enthusiasm over the winning of national honors by Marinship for the production of more tanker ships per way in March than any other U. S. shipyard.

The flag was presented by William B. Fawke, principal hull inspector for the U. S. Maritime Commission. It was accepted by Harry Craft, representative Marinship workman, who pledged increased shipbuilding effort in order to retain the competitive flag in future months.

"The bases are full; every Marinship batter will hit right into center field in order to bring all our boys home!" Craft pledged in the name of his fellow workers.

The parade began to form at the north end of the yard, and reached great proportions by the time it reached the outfitting docks where the program was scheduled to be held. After the presentation the large flag was hoisted by a Marinship mobile crane where it swung high in the air, with red, white and blue streamers.

The flag had been rushed from Swan Island shipyard at Portland, Ore., and Miss Echo Jensen, United Airlines stewardess, was on hand to deliver the flag.

Program participants included four satin-skirted majorettes from Tamalpais High School at Mill Valley. They are Barbara Cauch, Betty Mead, Demeris Robbins, and Betty Lou Cuneo. The Fourth Army Band was led by Lieut. Lynn Decker, with Sergt. James Fitches, soloist. A color guard of Marinship police officers was led by Color Sergt. Harold Howe of Mill Valley Master of Ceremonies was Victor Wells of San Rafael.

Marinship won the national honors as the result of the delivery of four 10,000 horsepower turbo-electric tankers in March. Other contestants are Swan Island yard of Kaiser Co., Inc., Portland, Ore.; Alabama Dry Dock and Shipbuilding Co., Mobile, Ala.; and Sun Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Co., Chester, Pa.

President K. K. Betchel of ther goals of three more tankther goals ofthree more tankers in April and four in May. These ships are the fastest commercial tankers ever built.

"The Marin Citizen" Editor To Be On The Air Sunday

James San Jule, editor of "The Marin Citizen" will be heard on the radio Sunday night from 5 to 6 p.m. over station KSFO, as one of the speakers on the regular California Council Table program. Topic of discussion on the program will be "Freedom of the Press."

Other speakers will be Dr. E. Guy Talbott, editor of the "Argonaut", California's oldest newspaper; Don Guillerne Benedetti, attorney for the consulate of Panama and correspondent or Latin American newspapers; James Boothe, editor of the San Rafael Independent; Lloyd E. Greybiel, vice president of the American Trust Company; and T. F. Bagshaw, publisher of The Marin Journal.

Chairman of the forum will be Stuart R. Ward, executive secretary of San Francisco's famed Commonwealth Club.

Graduation For Eighth Graders At Center On June 16

A special graduation ceremony for Marin City eighth-graders has been arranged at the Community House, June 16, announced Superintendent Clifton Boyle this week.

Previous plans called for one big joint ceremony for Sausalito and Marin City children at the Central School auditorium.

The separate ceremony was granted upon petition of local parents, he said.

Approximately 60 boys and girls are expected to graduate at the end of this term.

A pre-Teeners dance will be held here April 29.

San Rafael and Sausalito will be included upon a daily mail and cargo airline service shortly after the war, if an application before the Civil Aeronautics Authority from the Ryan School of Aeronautics is approved.

Under the plan for an air route which would later be expanded to passenger travel, a route, starting from San Francisco, will be inaugurated to serve the coast cities as far north as Eureka.

Included on this line for regularly scheduled passenger stops would be Santa Rosa, Ukiah and Fort Bragg. Intermediate delivery points and pick-up stations, where actual landings would not be required, would include Sausalito, San Rafael, Vallejo, Napa, Petaluma, Calistoga, Healdsburg, Cloverdale, Lakeport, Willits, Laytonville, Garberville, Scotia, and Fortuna.

The planes to be used by the Ryan school will be 8-seater twin-engine airliners with special aerial pick-up devices rigged to allow for pickup of air mail and other cargo service without actual landings.

Under the air lane operation, landing would be made at 24 cities in California and delivery and pickup service at 84 other communities, all of the lines, as shown on the above map would connect with main liners now making stops at San Francisco.

Alice James Is Pledged To College Sorority

Miss Alice James was recently pledged to Alpha Sigma chapter of Phi Theta Kappa at Marin Junior College, where she is a student.

Alice is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl James of Marin City.

Tam High Girls Make Own Dresses

At the request of a group of Tamalpais High girls who wanted to hand-block their own dirndl skirts, a new craft class has been organized.

The group, which concentrates on textile painting, meets Friday at 3:30 p.m. in Bldg. 398 with Instructor Martha Roberts.

Other teen-age girls are invited to join.

Tomato Plants Now On Sale At Garden Center Here

Tomato plants are now on sale at the Garden Center, says its new proprietor, W. J. Richards.

Mr. and Mrs. Richards take turns keeping the Center open daily, Monday, through Saturday, for the convenience of garden-minded Marin citizens.

House plants, seeds, and tool rentals are available there.

Mr. and Mrs. Richards will make the center their new home, as soon as it is remodeled for housekeeping.

Ed Anderson is doing landscape gardening in the county, after his nightly graveyard shift at Marinship.

Rental Office Activity Like Six Ring Circus

Citizens here who came to the Community House last week just to pay their rent, found themselves in the middle of a six-ring circus.

Activity around the rental office included the medical survey, income tax advice, registration for voting, donating to the Red Cross, and signing up for Blood Bank contributions.

Members of the new Marin City Volunteer Women's organization staffed the medical census desk.

Mrs. Martha Roberts spoke to a Y.W.C.A. group at a luncheon in San Francisco today about Marin City's recreation program.

Housekeeping Hints

Should You Paint? If So, What Happens? What About Windows?

Some light was shed this week on the perplexing problem of keeping house in Marin City by one who should know — Gerry Craner, maintenance supervisor.

Since there will definitely be no renovation of dwellings this year, Craner started off with information about cleaning walls.

"Walls in kitchens and bathrooms of both apartments and houses are covered with a good oil paint. They'll stand up under rigorous washing with any cleaning solution or soap which is not too strong," he said.

However, pointed out Craner, the walls of bedrooms and living rooms are a different story. "Handle with care, when you start washing them," he warned.

These walls are covered with a synthetic laquar, and will keep their color only if wiped gently with a damp cloth.

On the subject of residents, themselves, painting walls and ceilings different colors, Craner advised, "You're on your own."

"Changing colors of walls and ceilings may lead to loss of deposit fees. It all depends upon the tenant who moves in next. If he makes no objection, there will be no loss by previous tenants," he declared.

He advised the use of a comparable quality of paint. Products such as Kem-tone, which apply easily and dry quickly, are wholly water paints and won't stand up under any kind of cleaning, he said.

Painting of kitchen drainboards is strictly OK, he declared. For a really fine job, use marine varnish, if you can get it. Otherwise paint, with an after coat of enamel, will turn out well.

Floors were all pre-finished before being installed, said Craner, who also admits the finish was transient.

For those who want a once-over job which will settle the floor problem for the duration, he advises scrubbing, drying, and apply any patented solution containing a combination of varnish and stain. This will dry overnight.

Cautioning about scrubbing with water, he advised not leaving puddles to dry by themselves. This causes buckling.

For an oil, instead of wax finish, use a cedar oil. Kerosene removes all wax, without adding any other finish.

For waxing over floors as they are, use any colored wax.

Windows, of houses on high hillsides, present a definite cleaning problem. Craner announced this week the maintenance department is putting aside a high ladder for loaning to residents, who have not yet been able to reach the outside of some windows.

When it comes to equipment, in the house, Craner's biggest plea is for cleanliness of kerosene stove.

Grease collected under and on the burners is a fire hazard, he warns.

Craner added space heaters are not trash burners, do not burn paper in the fire pot.

Invitation To Women From Sausalito Club

An invitation to Marin City women to attend the Spring Garden Festival, Thursday, April 20, was extended this week by the Sausalito Woman's Club.

Herman Hein, former Marin City garden instructor, will speak on "Your Gardens in Wartime", and answer all questions on garden problems.

A special feature will be flower arrangements by club members. A plant sale will begin at 1 p.m.

The Sausalito Festival is open to the public. Tea will be served at four.

Women At War

Here's a smart meat loaf recipe which gives a fine main dinner, plus sandwich filling for tomorrow's lunches:

MEAT LOAF

1 pound ground beef
½ pound ground pork
½ pound ground pork liver
½ cup wheat germ
1 cup oatmeal
1 large onion, finely chopped
1 egg
1 cup evaporated milk
2 teaspoons salt
¼ cup minced parsley
½ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon sage
½ teaspoon celery salt
¼ cup chili sauce

Mix all ingredients very thoroughly in a large bowl.

Pack firmly in large loaf pan

Bake for 1½ hours at 350 degrees.

N. B.—This is a Marin City-tested recipe, which means it's nutritious, easy, and quick to prepare. If you can't get the liver ground,and you probably can't, the loaf is swell without it.

QUICK DINNER

Vegetable Chop Suey, served with steaming weiners is a quick and tasty menu for war-busy housewives:

* * * *

VEGETABLE CHOP SUEY

1 tablespoon shortening
3 cups cabbage, shredded
1 cup celery sliced
1 green pepper, thinly sliced
1 onion, thinly sliced
Salt and pepper

Heat shortening to piping hot in frying pan

Drop in cabbage, celery, pepper, and onion. Season and stir well

Cover tightly and steam for 5 minutess

Stir several times. Serve immediately with weiners

* * *

Here's a tip on satisfying the family sweet tooth, without using up the sugar supply. Use 1½ cups of molasses instead of 1 cup of sugar for comparable sweetness. When used in baking, add ½ teaspoon of soda for each cup. The substitution gives heavier cakes, but they stay moist longer.

Would You Like To Sew For Red Cross Every Wednesday?

If you have a sewing machine or would like to sew and knit come down to the Community Center lounge room every Wednesday afternoon from 1:30 to 4 o'clock, and sew and knit for the Red Cross. That is the message of Mrs. Rosa McGuire, chairman of such work.

Every woman in Marin City is cordially invited to help in this work, Mrs. McGuire said.

Mrs. Jack Oshum of A1 has just returned from a trip to Grand Junction, Colo., where she visited with her father.

Mrs. O. W. Engel and young son returned from Seaside Calif., where she has been visiting friends for a week.

Mrs. Philip Strombom and son Ronny are visiting her mother in Paso Robles this week.

Mrs. Ella Goff and son Glen Earl of B-5 are visiting with home folks at Marshall, Texas. They were accompanied by Mrs. Goff's father, Will Anderson of A15, who is back on the farm for spring planting.

Earl James, chairman of the Improvement Committee, and Daniel Allen, chairman of the Marin City Council, are volunteering their services this Sunday painting white strips on telephone poles to mark stops for the new inter-city bus service.

Mrs. Earl James and Mrs. W. C. Billingsley attended the Musical Chest "kick-off" Tea at the home of Mrs. Berrin Anderson of San Rafael, last Wednesday afternoon.

Gene Johnson, young editor of the Teeners' "Junior Herald," has just passed his Army physical and is now awaiting induction.

School Kids Invest In Democracy

School children from the Sausalito and Marin City grammer schools have invested $21,-396.60 in War Bonds and stamps since the beginning of the school term, said Superintendent Clifton Boyle at last Monday's school board meeting.

Savings day at the Marin City school is every Tuesday.

Soft Ball Team For Young Women Is Being Formed

A young women's soft ball team is being organized in Marin City and is looking for new players.

Interested athletes should see Ester White at A15-120 or Christine Richards at A14-110, after 4:30 p.m.

VISION IS VITAL

We've all a job to do on the home front—two jobs. Build more ships and buy more Bonds. Be sure that poor eyesight is not slowing YOUR production for VICTORY.

Hedda Hopper: Looking at HOLLYWOOD

MAKING fun of such a gruesome business as murder has made a fortune for Boris Karloff.

Four years ago Karloff suddenly realized that his homicidal hobbies weren't paying off as lucratively or as fast as he would like. After that spine-chilling Frankenstein monster, as a mummy, a ghoul, Bluebeard, and other fiendish characters, he found himself demoted to lesser monstrosities in double-billed horror pictures.

Boris Karloff

Then along came an offer to appear in a New York play. He had never done one on the Broadway stage, and he, the terror of countless film fans, found the thought frightened him. Besides, it was a play that kidded insanity and murder—a very touchy subject. But after settling for a nice, juicy piece of the play, plus a goodly salary, he lost his fear and took off.

Today, after three years of "Arsenic and Old Lace"—which is still packing them in in New York and on the road—Karloff is back for more pictures.

He's sharing starring honors with Susanna Foster and Turhan Bey in Universal's technicolor musical drama "The Climax," which George Waggner is producing and directing.

"Launching a stage play is a big gamble," says Karloff. "But after reading the 'Arsenic' script it struck me as one of the finest plays written in recent years."

Karloff put $6,000 in the play and got that investment back in three weeks. He's still collecting fat dividends. Bankers should be so lucky these days.

Anything for Irene

Irene Dunne's cooing like a dove, and well she might, since Metro paid $200,000 for A. J. Cronin's latest, "The Green Years," from the galley sheets. Nothing is too good for Irene since "A Guy Named Joe" and "The White Cliffs" . . . Jennifer Jones, and not Gene Tierney, is going to play the lead in "Laura." That's the one Clifton Webb is wanted for, but whether he'll be able to do it nobody knows . . . Margaret Sullavan leaves "Voice of the Turtle" June 24, but beginning June 19, she, Elliott Nugent, and Audrey Christy will give their services. The play will be shown free for a whole week to all men in uniform. That's a precedent I hope other producers will follow.

Irene Dunne

A Smile Maybe; Maybe Not

Ernst Lubitsch told me the following: While preparing "The Czarina" for the screen, he decided to get some authentic Russian names. He took a history book home with him. As he read he jotted down about 30 names from it such as Prince Ratoffsky, Prince Petchskoff, and Count Borshky—then laid the paper on his bedside table. The following morning his man, who has been with him 15 years, came in, looked at the paper and said: "Mr. Lubitsch, if you expect to have that many people to dinner Saturday night, you'd better let me know right quick so I can round up food for 'em."

Bing's a Great Guy

Bing Crosby's just signed a new contract with Paramount—one of the most important deals ever put over in this town. It's for 10 years straight, 52 weeks a year, for 23 pictures, with permission to do one outside picture a year for another company—Bing to have final say over story, director, leading lady, songs and publisher of songs . . . There are few men in our town who could get a deal like this. It isn't everybody who would play fair. Bing bends over backwards to give as much as he gets. For instance, in "Road to Utopia," which I'm told is the funniest of all the "Road" pictures, it was Bing who gave Paramount a new director — Hal Walker.

The Week's Best Shows

By ANNIE OAKLEY

Humphrey Bogart returns to town this week in "Passage To Marseille", the new Warner Bros. picture opening Saturday at the Marin. Playing an outspoken two-fisted French journalist who has a run-in with pro-Hitler authorities, Bogart is banished to Devil's Island only to make his escape and return to fight for France in an exciting film which is part adventure but part as timely as today's headlines.

Michele Morgan plays the romantic lead oposite Bogart and an excellent supporting cast features Claude Rains, Philip Dorn, Sydney Greenstreet, Helmut Dantine, Peter Lorre and George Tobias. The film was directed by Michael Curtiz who also directed "Casablanca" and was produced by Hal B. Walles. Max Steiner wrote the original music.

Another "Best Bet" this week opens Fri., April 21 at the Gate. It's 'Heavenly Body'. William Powell, whose usual roles present him as dapper, sartorially correct and one of the best dressed men of the screen, leaves all that behind as the astronomy professor in "The Heavenly Body" in which he co-stars with Hedy Lamar. Where did he get that suit of tweeds with the baggy knees?

Hedy Lamar turns from glamour to comedy as she teams up with William Powell, Arthur Hornblow, and Alexander Hall.

POST-WAR PLAN FOR MARIN FREE FORM ALL GROUPS NOW IN ACTION

Plans for post-war Marin were placed entirely in the hands of the representative citizens committee Monday evening when the Board of Supervisors meeting with the nominating committee for the post-war organization, handed down a decision which divorced the group entirely from any present county organization.

This move on the part of the Board and the seven man nominating group removed two of the appointed committeemen, Bruce Johnstone, of Inverness, and A. Von Rotz, of San Anselmo, both of whom are members of the Marin Planning Commission.

MEETING FRIDAY

The seven man post-war group have now set a meeting date for next Friday night in the court house at which time they will organize a Post-War Citizens Committee which will be composed of representatives from all sections of Marin and all phases of enterprise in the county.

Appointed to serve on the Citizens Committee was Leland S. Murphy, one of Marin's best known ranch owners, who will replace Commissioner Johnstone. As yet a successor has not been chosen as an alternate for Commissioner Von Rotz.

CITIZENS' GROUP

Previously appointed members of the post-war group are: Geo. Goheen, Mill Valley builder; Herbert Dohemann, San Rafael businessman; Jack Sparrow, Novato publisher; and Edw. Culver, representing organized labor in Marin.

Present at Monday night's session were: Supervisors T. F. Bagshaw, J. V. Kehoe, R. A. Thompson, W. D. Fusselman, County Clerk Geo. S. Jones, Committeeman Herbert Dohemann, A. Von Rotz, George Goheen, Ewd. Culver, Jack Sparrow, interested citizens M. F. Redmond, Fred Cairns, Frank Healion and Jim Boothe.

Community Chest Foretold In Marin

Whether or not a Marin County Community Chest should be established as a permanent county wide organization will be the topic Wednesday, April 26, when community chairmen for the Marin War Chest gather to make their final reports upon the 1943 campaign.

According to T. F. Bagshaw, chairman of the War Chest, it is expected that should favorable consideration be given the Community Chest plan temporary officers will be elected to proceed with permanent organization in the near future.

Letters have been sent to each of the campaign chairmen urging them to attend to hear the final report, and to bring with them several of their active workers. This move has been made to ensure a large representation at the meeting where opinions presented will possibly result in a permanent organization for the county.

National Honors

Marin Wins National Tanker Champ Pennant

National shipbuilding honors this week came to San Francisco bay area when Marinship was notified that it had won the National Tanker Champ Flag on the basis of March production.

K. K. Bechtel, president of Marinship, was notified by a wire from Admiral Howard L. Vickery, vice chairman, U. S. Maritime Commission, that Mainship's record of four large ankers delivered in March outdistanced all other tanker construction yards in the nation.

Vicery declared that he had instructed the Swan Island ship yard to transfer the National Tanker Champ Flag immediately to Marinship "since Marinship led in tanker productivity per way during March, and accordingly is authorized to fly the flag duing April."

In another wire to W. E. Waste, Marinship's general manager, Vickery stated: "Your March record is one of the bright spots on our March prigram. My congratulations to workers and management."

Marinship excelled the production records for March set by Kaiser Co., at Portland, Oregon; Alabama Dry Dock and Shipbuilding Company of Chester, Penna. This was done in spite of the fact that the 15,000 men and women of Marinship are building a more powerful and more complicated tanker than is now being built in any other tanker yard.

The tankers being built at Marinship are the fastest commercial tankers ever built, being powered by 10,000 horsepower turbo-electric motors.

Just prior to receipt of the telegram announcing the Tanker Champ Flag award, Bechtel told dayworkers at the shipyard in a special Four Tanker Celebration that he believes they will be able to deliver three tankers in April and four again in May.

"A single round trip of the four tankers we delivered in March would provide enough aviation gasoline for 12 round trips of 2,000 Liberator bombers from English bases to Berlin and back," he told workers. "I congratulate you on doing a whale of a job."

Marinship is the newest and smallest of the yards competing for the Natonal Tanker Champ Flag—a feat which increased enthusasm over the unprecedented honor.

It was reported that Marinship workers were planning a yard-wide celebration to be held when the Tanker Champ Flag actually arrives in the yard.

Polls Set For School Board Vote

The Marin City school building has been designated the polling place for local voters at the coming school board election, May 19, according to announcement at last Monday's school board meeting.

Voters from the town's three voting precincts—312, 313, 314—will cast their ballots on that date for one trustee to serve on the Sausalito school board.

Candidates are Dan Allen, from Marin City, and Robert Anderson of Sausalito.

The polls will be open from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m., it was announced.

Grease Sales Outfit Room For Coast Guard

The $50, donated from grease sales at the Marin City market during March, is being used to outfit a day room for Coast Guardsmen at Bolinas, reports Mrs. Ada M. Fusselman, chairman of Marin City CD Salvage Committee.

The Marin City Day and Graveyard CD has also given $25 for soft ball equipment for isolated ports on the coast.

District Boy Scout Court Of Honor Held Recently

At a district Boy Scout Court of Honor held recently in Marin City, Stanley Wilker and William Lindberg received their second class awards. James Coker received his first class award and Russell Strittmatter received a merit badge in pathfinding.

The court of honor was presided over by Volney Howard. Loren Jay of Sausalito, presented a "Quiz Whiz" on the program following the presentation of the awards.

Woodworking Class To Be Suspended Without Help

Wood-working classes for Marin City young people will be suspended during April unless a volunteer comes forward to replace W. H. Gross who will be out of town this month, announces the Recreation Department.

Classes for children from 6 to 12 years of age are held Fridays from 4 to 5:30 p.m. Teeners' wood-working class meets on Thursdays from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Willing volunteers should contact Mrs. Martha Roberts at Bldg. 398, just behind the Community House.

M.J.C. Opens New Courses This Week

This week at Marin Junior College the advanced course in electronics, conducted by Carlton E. Cherry, enters its final phase. Material to be covered will include: study of direct and alternating current machinery, light sensitive cells, electronic methods of regulating generator and current, and selsyns and amplidynes.

Class lectures are on Mondays from 7 to 10 p.m. Laboratory work from 7 to 10 p.m. on either Wednesday or Thursday.

Also meeting for the first time this week is a new class in ceramics. Classes are on Tuesdays from 7:30 to 10 p.m. Instruction by Mrs. W. F. Rauschnabel.

Music Chest Drive On Next Week

Marin Music Chest, organized for the purpose of bringing the "greatest music in the world, to the greatest number of people, for the lowest possible price", will open its twelfth annual membership drive April 17 to May 1, with general headquarters located at the San Rafael Service Center, corner Fourth and B Sts., San Rafael.

Mrs. W. C. Billingsley and Mrs. Earl James will represent the Music Chest in Marin City. Memberships are in two classifications: a $10 membership entitles member to four tickets to each concert during current season, mailed in advance; $5 entitles member to two tickets to every concert, also mailed in advance, and memberships less than $5 entitles member to purchase one 25c ticket for every concert at gates of Forest Meadows on the Dominican College grounds in San Rafael, upon presentation of a membership card. Non-members must pay $2.20 (tax included) per person per concert. All admissions are subject to Federal tax.

Workers in the Chest are voluntary, therefore all money taken in from the annual drive, with the exception of 5 per cent, is used for artists' fees. The 5 per cent goes toward a "scholarship fund" for outstanding young Marin county musicians.

Last two years of the Marin Music Chest have proved that neither lack of gasoline, nor pressure of war work can suppress the community's need for fine music and it's belief in the aims and ideals of the Chest. On the contrary, last season might well be called the most successful in the history of the Chest. Artists presented were Artur Rubinstein, noted Polish pianist; Dorothy Maynor, celebrated young American soprano; Yehudi Menuhin, world famous violinist, and the San Francisco Ballet, accompanied by members of the San Francisco Symphony.

All service men and women are admitted free of charge to all Marin Music Chest events. A meeting of Music Chest chairmen and workers will be held Wednesday afternoon, April 12, at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Berrien Anderson, president, Magnolia Ave., San Rafael, to receive final instructions and supplies for drive. Mrs. Jerome Tallant of Ross will be drive chairman this year.

Would you like to see a class started here on your pet subject? It can be done by dropping a card to Box 236, Recreation Department, Marin City.

Vern Koch took a group of his baseball team on a bicycle trip over to Muir Beach during Easter vacation.

Closet Beneath Flue No Place For Clothing Storage

A warning to house residents who have closets beneath the flue pipes was issued this week by the Maintenance Department.

"Don't hang clothes in these closets — soot collects in the board above and water seeping down through will stain clothing," it was announced.

Numerous complaints of spoiled apparel brought forth the warning.

The closets are primarily for household cleaning equipment, brooms, and mops.

The caution does not apply to house residents whose hot water heaters are located in this space.

"Junior Herald" To Hold Reorganization Meet On Tuesday

A reorganization meeting of the "Junior Herald" teener staff has been called for next Tuesday, April 18, at 7:30 p.m. at Building 398.

The paper is losing its editor, Gene Johnson, to the U.S. Army.

All young people with journalistic ambitions are urged to come.

Volunteer Chauffers Recruited by USO

Volunteer chauffers and office help are still being recruited at the USO Travelers' Aid Cottage here.

Men or women who can offer some time to this service organization are urged to contact Mrs. Marie Larson at the Cottage behind the Greyhound bus station.

Those who helped out last week are Mrs. Betty Eldridge of Sausalito, Mrs. Arthur Walenta and Mrs. Richard Waycott.

New Residents From Washington

New house residents in Marin City last week were Mr. and Mrs. Homer Owens with Wayne, Joane, and Patti from Oregon, House 535; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Jaques with Charles and Ruth from Arizona, House 208; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Jones with son John from Washington, House 582; Mr. and Mrs. Herb Payne with sons Ray and Bill from Arizona, House 663.

Teen Agers Elect New Councilmen

First meeting of the new Teener Council was held last week, with four re-elected and one new member. They are Lynn Draper, Willie Rombke, Konrad Knudsen, Alice James and Milton Styir.

Old members, filling long terms. are Joyce Palmer, chairman, Herb Holloway, Jackson Palmer, Betty Maycock, Don Roser.

The new council voted to enforce the rule that Teener dances are for Marin City and Dormitories teeners only. Written applications must be filled out and a courtesy card will be issued to all who qualify.

Any member may bring guests by filling out a guest card, the council decided.

A program committee was formed to furnish entertainment for the Friday night dances. Betty Maycock was appointed temporary chairman.

New police chief appointed at the meeting is Herb Halloway. Konrad Knudsen stays on as assistant chief. The council voted to reorganize the force with a few members of the old law-enforcing body staying in as a nucleus.

At the clubhouse, "399", the snack bar was turned over, by common consent to the adult host and hostess committee.

Miss Celeste Strack, state organizer for American Youth for Democracy outlined the A. Y. D.'s plans and program and spoke briefly of how well the Marin City Teener organization is known.

Rileys Meet To Celebrate Their Wedding Date

Mrs. Floyd Riley left Marin City last week for a short visit with her husband who is taking basic training at Camp Barclay, near Abilene, Texas. The Rileys meet to celebrate their 14th wedding anniversary.

From Abilene, Mrs. Riley will go to Columbia, Missouri, to visit her parents during her husband's Army training time. He is attached to a Medical Detail.

NO "TOOTHLESS" DAYS

MODERN DENTAL SCIENCE has made possible NO TOOTHLESS DAYS or IMMEDIATE RESTORATIONS. This enables people to wear their new DENTAL PLATES immediately following final extractions. This is particularly important for those who have to meet the public during their daily occupations such as TEACHERS, ACTORS, and SALES PERSONS.

Modern Methods

In DENTISTRY now help your DENTIST TO HELP YOU even in the most difficult cases. Too often unattractive appearance resulting from NEGLECTED, DEFORMED or MISSING TEETH has BARRED a person from the HAPPINESS and SUCCESS otherwise attainable and DESERVED.

"Litte Trees"

Blooming Apricot And Quince Beautify City

The little trees around Marin City's houses and commercial area total up to the grand number of 2500, it was learned this week from Alexander Walker, landscape gardener in charge of their care.

"And that's a lot of trees to water," says Walker who, with the help of an assistant Emil Brumfield, gets around to watering each tree two times every month. Both men work full time for the housing authority on this landscape cultivation.

Now in blossom are the quince trees. The only other blooming tree planted here is the apricot, which ceased blossoming recently and is now forming fruit. There will be apricot and quinces growing on the trees this summer, if the children will leave them alone, says Walker.

But, complained the tree expert, the children are a big menace to the trees' health and well-being. There's many a tree here which will be stunted, and some which will never achieve maturity because of damage inflicted by neighborhood youngsters, Walker declared.

The trees were planted here last June. However, they are from three to five years of age, depending upon their maturity when they came here from the nursery.

In addition to the blooming apricot and quince trees, there are Chinese elms, silver birches, sycamores, cedars, olives, decorative gums, and pepper trees.

Arthur Marum's son, Leonard, is now fighting on the very spot on the Italian border where the senior Marum was stationed in World War I. Like his father, Leonard is in a private first class in the Infantry.

The Marum family left their home in Moint, North Dakota, where the elder Marum was working for the Fish and Wild Life Commission, to get into the home front battle at Marinship. They live here at House 319.

INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS

By FREDERICK THOMPSON

In checking over the exact wording of the Monroe Doctrine, which has stood solidly as an expression of American policy for one hundred and twenty years, and in reading again the reaffirmations of that policy by statesmen during its long history, it becomes clear that the very essence and strength of the doctrine rests on the principle of international law which recognizes a country's right and duty to protect itself against attack or attempted destruction by another power or group of powers.

The doctrine draws solid support to itself, also, in that it is a public expression of democracy not only on the part of the country that enunciated it, but also as a shield for democracy protecting those countries whose aspirations were in that direction, but which at the time were palpably unable to defend themselves in the event of attack.

There have been times in American history when we might have been called on to defend the policy by force of arms and would have done so had we not been able to avoid at last recourse by means of warnings and diplomacy.

It is interesting to recall that one of the latest and most serious threats to the principle of the .. Monroe .. doctrine .. arose through a threatened action by our deadly enemy of Pearl Harbor infamy, Japan.

The facts are about as follows:

During the years 1910 and 1911 there were repeated rumors and some news items to the effect that Japan was having conversations with Mexico looking to an arrangement through sale or long lease on the part of Mexico to a corporation to be formed in Japan (and of course Government owned) of a fine land-locked harbor on the coast of lower California some five hundred miles below San Diego, California, and known as Magdalena Bay. Had these conversations culminated in an agreement Japan would have acquired a naval and air base at a geographical spot from which we would have been most vulnerable to sudden attack. She would have been poised like a vulture over our highly important oil fields and refineries, our airplane factories and our shipping facilities—she would have placed herself in a position to threaten all communication between our Canal, and South and Central America. She would have had runways and repair shops, drydocks and storage space.

To reach her out-post by land we should have had to travel some five or six hundred miles through sparsly watered semi-desert. Our water lanes to the Hawaiian group, to Pearl Harbor and to our Marine base at Pago-Pago would have been under constant harassment from Lower California based submarines. San Diego would have become untenable as a naval base protecting the west coast.

In 1912 the Senate of the United States adopted a resolution embodying the following announcement:

"That when any harbor or other place in the American Continents is so situated that the occupation thereof for naval or military purposes might threaten the communications or safety of the United States, the Government of the United States could not see without grave concern the possession of such harbor or place by any corporation or association which has such a relation to another government, not American, to give that government practical power or control for naval or military purposes."

It was explained that the resolution rested on the principles of self-defense and that it was "allied to the Monroe doctrine."

On this principle of justifiable self defense England could occupy Eire if Germany made a serious attempt to attack her from that neighbor state. On this principle Russia could have, had she been strong enough at the time, opposed the construction of the German financed Mannerheim line in Finland the guns of which were in range of the second largest city of the Soviet Union, Leningrad.

However, in the case before us, Mexico and Japan took note. Japan was not ready to face a show-down which would undoubtedly have led to war at that time and the scheme of forging one more link in the chain which was to be completed by her fortification of the mandated islands was frustrated.

The satisfactory point of this action on our part is that when we base our policy on clearly spoken principles of self-protection and common democracy the world has no difficulty in understanding us.

Overtime For Yard Worker

Regular overtime of two hours a day, in addition to the regular shift, for a few hundred workers in specified crafts was announced this week at Marinship by Ray L. Hamilton, production manager. Purpose is to balance production in order to complete at least three 10,000 horsepower tankers each month.

Some pipefitters, machinists, electricians, welders and members of other crafts will be asked to report to work at 6:00 a.m. instead of 8:00 a.m. on the day shift, and start work at 4:30 p.m. and continue until 2:30 a.m. instead of 12:30 a.m. in case of the swing shift.

Hamilton vigorously denied this move indicates that Marinship is adopting a 10-hour shift program, or that the graveyard shift will be eliminated.

"There will always be an allocation movement of men from one shift to another to improve operations," he stated. "For instance, some machinists and pipefitters have been and will be moved from graveyard shift to day and swing. However, we also propose to move some welders from day and swing to graveyard, particularly in the Plant Division and on the ways."

Hamilton explained that the reason the extra time is assigned before the day shift and at the end of the swing shift is to allow the use of tools otherwise idle during the graveyard shift, which has a smaller number of workers than the other two shifts.

"At the present time there is no definite plan or intention of adopting the ten-hour shift at Marinship or making any other major change in working conditions. Any such move would be announced weeks in advance and would first be duly approved by the Metal Trades Council and all local unions," Hamilton explained.

"Our important task for April is the delivery of three ships, and idle rumors have no part in this task," he said.

A similar overtime program was tried out during March, and as a result Marinship was able to break its record and deliver four tankers. Due to this success the program has been continued into April.

Workers to roll surgical bandages will be welcome at the Red Cross Building at Sausalito. Hours are Monday, Wednesday, and Friday from 12 noon to 3:30 p.m.

"The Lady in the Lake", a murder mystery by Raymond Chandler, New York, Alfred A. Knopf; sold by Paul Elder & Co., 239 Post St., San Francisco, Calif.

Reviewed by EDITH HOFMANN

Ever felt like murdering the girl that jilted you, or your mother-in-law that drives you crazy? Better not do that, for crime doesn't pay! Get the rage out of your system by reading a nice juicy murder mystery. Blood will flow, but it won't hurt anybody; corpses will be found in the most unlikely places, for instance, under a pillar deep down in the muddy water of a lake.

The novel "Lady in the Lake" is a fast moving story that keeps you guessing all the time. Why did Muriel Chess leave her husband, Why did Crystal send the myterious cable from El Paso that brought fear to the heart of so stalwart a man as Mr. Kingsley? Is Detective Philip Marlowe going to cover up a crime or expose one? Dir Dr. Almore's wife commit suicide and if not who was her murderer:

"The Lady in the Lake" is a hard boiled story, but the various plots and subplots are built up logically and we follow Detective Marlowe breathlessly until the very last of his exploits. This is a book that will keep the lights burning in many a bedroom, because once you start reading it you will not put it away until you have arrived at the last page.

Rational Rationing

Community Service Member
Local OPA Board.

Major relief for the nation's 600,000 retailers from the burdens of food rationing has been announced by Chester Bowles, Administrator of the Office of Price Administration, in directing the removal of expiration dates from Red and Blue stamps, used for buying meats, fats, oils and processed fruits and vegetables.

"Most of our 40 million housewives, too, should benefit materially from this change," Mr. Bowles said in explaining that the difficulty of keeping track of overlapping expiration dates and of waiting to check out in food stores, would be eliminated.

From now on the Red and Blue stamps in War Ration Book Four will be good indefinitely, just as shoe and sugar stamps are; advance notice will be given if it is found necessary to retire any food stamps.

There is no change in the rate at which stamps become good. Housewives may continue to budget their family purchases of rationed foods on the basis of three Red stamps (worth a total of 30 points) every second Sunday, and five Blue stamps (worth a total of 50 points) the first of every month.

The introduction of tokens as the small change of rationing has made it possible to remove the expiration dates on stamps, Mr. Bowles explained. Before tokens came into use, store keepers had no adequate way of making change for customers who had already spent their stamps of small denominations. Now, with tokens, the 10-point Red and Blue stamps can be presented at any time without causing either the retailer or the customer inconvenience.

"We believe this change," Mr. Bowles said, "will indeed be a big boon to retailers who have been beset with the problems of manpower and store staffs, and have been faced with sharp peak loads of business just preceding the expiration of stamps.

"OPA is increasingly sensitive to the problem of retailers and their customers. We want to do everything possible to assure that the clerical and shopping burdens of food rationing are kept down to a minimum of nuisance and trouble. We are constantly studying ways and means of approaching simplicity in the difficult task of rationing the country's food supply."

Camp and Hospital Service

Mrs. Ernest M. Smith Heads Red Cross Work

At the regular monthly meeting of Volunteer Special Services of Marin County American Red Cross held recently at chapter headquarters in San Rafael, the appointment of Mrs. Ernest M. Smith of Sausalito was announced as the new Marin county head of Red Cross Camp and Hospital Council Service, according to Miss Edith S. Waterman, Red Cross Chapter chairman for Marin county.

Mrs. Smith fills the vacancy left by Mrs. Orton Elbert of Ross, who resigned in order to accept the chairmanship for northern California of the Red Cross Camp and Hospital Council Service. Mrs. Smith's appointment marks the first time a county head of a Red Cross volunteer service has come to Sausalito.

As Sausalito chairman of Camp and Hospital for some time and working closely with Mrs. Elbert and other members of the Marin County committee, Mrs. Smith is prepared to take up her work with a thorough knowledge and enthusiasm for the work to be done for service men stationed in Marin county. The Red Cross Camp and Hospital Council Service is a channel through which the people may have the privilege of furnishing recreational equipment and comforts beyond military provision for the fighting men stationed in Army camps and hospitals in their own immediate vicinity.

Through Marin County Red Cross Camp and Hospital Committee, "dayrooms" have been furnished by various Marin County social and civic groups at Hamilton Field, Sleepy Hollow Supply Depot and other points throughout Marin county. A day-room was furnished by the San Rafael Improvement Club for the able bodied at Fort Baker and was dedicated early this year. Camp and Hospital distributes thousands of Christmas gifts so that no man stationed in Marin county is forgotten. Recreation halls at the hospitals and the day rooms are provided with current magazines and newspapers and good cheer in the form of books and various kinds of games. Materials for hospital patients to use in their handcraft work under the Red Cross Recreation program directed by trained Red Cross Recreational workers, are gathered and distributed right along. Volunteer professional entertainment is arranged as frequently as possible for the patients.

At a recent program arranged by Mrs. Smith for patients at Fort Baker and held in the Red Cross Recreation Hall at the Station Hospital, Mrs. W. Robert Miller of Sausalito played the piano accompaniment for radio's songstress Sheila Peart and for Nick Alexander, baritone of operatic fame.

Mrs. Miller now presents a program of piano music at the hospital every week.

In charge of furnishing flowers and flower arrangements for special occasions at the Recreation Hall at the Fort Baker Hospital for the Camp and Hospital Council Service is Mrs. William Bresnahan of Sausalito Mrs. Bresnahan makes regular trips to the hospital with greens and flowers from Sausalito gardeners who offer the fruits of their growing for the enjoyment of the war wounded.

Art Class Starts Soon At Center

Art instruction, which would include everything from sketching from a model to commercial lettering, is being promoted by a group of residents here.

The proposed instructor is W. F. Rauschnable, popular Marin Junior College artist.

Prospective students have in mind an art laboratory class where each individual would work in the medium most interesting to himself.

Others interested should see Miss Ethel Johnson in the Rental Office during daytime, Michael Smith, at the Community Building, between 7 and 8 p.m., or just mail a card to Martha Roberts, P. O. Box 236.

When enough students are registered the free class will be opened here.

Well Baby Clinic for the free care of healthy pre-school children, is held every Wednesday morning at the school building.

Service Charge On Appliances Has Lowered Damages

Since the maintenance department here levied a service charge on all appliance repairs two weeks ago, calls from residents for service and repairs have been decidedly lowered, yesterday said Gerry Craner, maintenance head.

The new ruling, which went into effect March 27, calls for payment by residents for all damage of equipment over normal wear and tear.

Ruling covers dwellings and all appliances and equipment supplied by the housing authority.

Invitation To Church Of Christ In The Pense Home

An invitation to Marin City people to attend the Church of Christ in the Pense home, 489 was exended this week by Dale A. Williamson, evangelist.

Morning service begins at 10 o'clock with Bible Study; Lord's Supper, 10:30 a.m.; Gospel Message, "The Death of the Cross" at 10:45; number by Girls Duet from Bible College; Children's Bible Hour at 11:30 a.m.

Everyone is invited to the American History class which meets Fridays at 8 p.m. in the Community House Lounge.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Heusel here this week is Mrs. E. J. Kiesner of Minneapolis, Minn.

School Kids Give Red Cross $110

Marin City school children turned in $110.57 to the Red Cross War Fund Drive last Friday as their contribution to help the nation's servicemen, this week announced Mrs. W.C. Billingsley, drive chairman.

Collections were made during the month of March through donation jars in each of the 20 classes.

The youngsters, from kindergarten to eighth grade, made this record collection mainly with penny, nickel and dime contributions.

Two Fires Do Little Damage

Two small fires briefly disturbed the peace of Marin City last week. An over-heated flue at the Earl Fauber home, 702, caused little outside soot damage.

An iron, left on while the Melvin Davis family was away, ruined an ironing board in their Apartment unit B9, 667.

A Good Job Done

After many trials and after what looked like many sure attempts to start bus service for everyone in Marin City, the improvement committee of the Marin City Council now is able to announce a fool-proof plan for such service starting next Monday, April 17.

The news story announcing the beginning of the service and how it came about can be found on page one. The schedule of the bus service can be found on page two.

A great deal of credit is due the improvement committee of the city council for seeing this through until its final accomplishment. It has been many months since attempts were first made to secure such service, especially for those who live on the north hill. Sometimes it looked as difficult as trying to fight your way out of a barrel of glue. Everything was set several times and then things went wrong. Up to now there has never been any guarantee of consecutive bus service up the hill and people there have suffered thereby.

Now the efforts of the Improvement Committee have come to a successful conclusion and the entire population of the community is the better for it. Another good example of the value of the Marin City Council and its activities.

Support of the new bus schedule is essential for continued success of its operations.

EDITORIAL NOTE: Letters from Marin City residents on any subject under the sun are welcome in the columns of "The Marin Citizen." Our only wish is that letters be kept to not more than 250 words and that they be signed. DEAR EDITOR:

I understand that the Improvement Committee of our City Council has made an attempt toward a decided improvement in the appearance of our town, and management has turned "thumbs down".

I refer to the proposition regarding the Junk Yard that has been maintained in the front yard of our community for the benefit of certain contractors, or about as long as Marin City has been in existence.

I understand the Committee asked that the salvage and other material be removed to a spot less predominately in the public eye, and for permission and some assistance to clean, improve, and beautify that eucalyptus grove at the heart of town; undeniably a "natural" for picnicking, mild recreation, and just loafing; with greater possibilities which have been discussed a good many times among those interested, who number quite a few.

If Guy Ciocca and the commissioners have, with full knowledge of the plan, refused to give it favorable consileration, could the County Planning Board be interested? . . . This IS a residence community, and if we could have an attractive park where now the Junk Yard overlooks our main street it could not but exert a desirable influence over residents and visitors alike.

I hope Council does not quit on this idea.

WE WONDER

Sometimes we wonder if candidates for political office ever take themselves seriously. We got to thinking along this line this week when we looked over the claims of the eight or ten aspirants for the U. S. Senate seat of incumbent Sheridan Downey.

Against Downey there are arrayed more candidates than there have been for a major political office in years. All of them say that they are the one who can solve all of the ills of the nation, and especially the U. S. Senate. Chief of these aspirants is Justus Craemer, who's slogan seems to be. "Let's have Justus in Washington." Craemer, a member of the State Railroad Commission, has at no time in his career that we know of distinguished himself sufficiently to represent the people of California in the U. S. Senate. We have seen him in action a number of times and have been impressed mainly, either for his bumbling lack of knowledge of subjects or his reactionary approach to public problems.

Most of the other candidates for Downey's seat are of the same mental and political outlook as Craemer. The only difference is that they have even less chance of being elected.

We'll have more to say about the candidates for U. S. Senate as time goes by.

SAUSALITO ELECTION

The Sausalito city elections were held this week with disastrous results for three incumbent city councilmen. Three new councilmen were elected, among whom was George Keeney, Marinship employment manager. A new city clerk also went into office to make a clean sweep of the Sausalito political scene.

★

IMPORTANT DATES

May 16 — Primary election day.

May 19—School board election day.

SCHOOL BOARD ELECTION I

Precincts were set up this week for the school board election on May 19. One of the precincts will be at the Marin City School. Two men are running for a place on the local school board. They are Dan Allen, chairman of the Marin City Council, and Robert Anderson of Sausalito.

REGISTRATION

More than 1,000 Marin City residents registered to vote for the May 16 primary election. This record is due in a large part to the efforts of volunteer canvassers who went from door to door like Paul Revere to urge everyone to register. The campaign was sponsored by the Marin City Council and really bore fruit.

Now it is our responsibility to see that these more than 1000 votes are cast on May 16 and May 19 and that they are cast in the interest of Marin City and its people.
